

Jerry Homel, general manager at Gable House, is featuring Ladies Day every Monday between the hours of 10 and 3 p.m.

SIX HOT ALLEYS

The Ladies Day spectacular will consist of trying to get strikes on the six special alleys. Homel has the six lanes set up with three rotating colored pins.

Here is the way to play the game. If the lady bowler succeeds in hitting a strike when there is a colored head pin, she gets one free game. If the colored pins turn up in the 1-2 or 1-3 position a strike is made, ten free games will be won. The final and gigantic prize is that if the colored pins fall in the 1-2-3 spot the big strike is made, one hundred free games will be awarded to the lucky Gable winner.

Drop by Gable on Mondays, ladies, and shoot a few lines of bowling. The price is only 35c a line, so what have you got to lose? Let's see your name among the first winners.

TOP WINNERS

The Bowl-A-Round winners for the last weeks bowling were A. Tompson, 685 (high series); F. Durnya, 657 (second high series); and T. Gingell, 237 (high game).

Gable House sponsored Virg Stidham's appearance in the State Bowling Tournament in Fresno last Saturday and Sunday.

Virg (a terrific left hander) shot very well. In the doubles, he shot a 604 scratch and with a handicap of 38 pins totaled a 642.

In the singles event he shot a 668 with handicap and in the team event scored a 509 plus the 38 for a good 547. Virg placed well in all events and hopes to be in the finals.

LOS ANGELES TOROS

A $6,500 National Bowling League player contract, the eighth spot on the Los Angeles Toros team, and a wad of prize money will be at stake in the $5,000 area-wide Toros' Tournament beginning the weekend of August 5th.

Leonard Homel, owner of the Toros and president of the NBL, expects an entry list of more than 100 to compete for the recognition and awards that will go to the winner. Homel announces that any male bowler 18 or older who meets NBL player requirements is eligible.

Qualifying will be 60 games, to be rolled over three successive weekends in August at sites in the L.A. area. These will be announced when the entry list is completed. The finals will be run off at the Toro's new arena in Culver City on August 26 and 27. Deadline for entries is July 26.

Harvey Field Dedicated During Week-end Ceremony

Until minor-team games are played this Saturday, June 24, Harvey Field, the newly formed "Fre-Way" Little League's newly constructed ballpark at 186th and Western will not be fully, finally, and officially dedicated.

But the opener for their scheduled two-Saturday dedication, a formal presentation held last Saturday, June 17, was official enough to do for any number of subsequent Saturdays.

Preceding a major-team double header played before a crowd of three hundred parents and a parkful of kids who wouldn't stand still to be counted, the ceremonies began with a flag-raising conducted by Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, and Explorers of Troops 315, 228, and 565X. Following, an invocation was pronounced by Rev. Walter Stanton, pastor of Central Evangelical United Brethren Church.

There, on the west diamond, to the accompaniment of sounds from a power roller still working on the east diamond, the acting mayor of Los Angeles and its City Council President, John Gibson, who is also the area's councilman, accepted the field on behalf of the neighborhood. The donor, Harvey Aluminum, was represented by the company's president, Leo Harvey, who symbolically tendered the use of the park to the new league and made a further contribution to its welfare in the form of a check presented to the league's president, John Garcia.

COMMEMORATE

To commemorate the event, Harvey was in turn presented with a model of the field constructed by members of the league's womens auxiliary.

The new Fre-Way League district is bounded by Western Avenue on the west, Artesia on the north, Main on the east, and 223rd Street on the south. There are 160 boys presently registered as participants.

At 2 p.m. Saturday, June 24, the second section of the dedication of Harvey Aluminum Field will take place as scheduled.
